

I am willing to pay for XM radio because I believe it provides a more enjoyable listening experience. Much as subscribers to cable TV can pay to increase their viewing options, I believe I should be able to get programming I enjoy on my radio. I urge the FCC not to censor XM programming. Competition is healthy and censoring it seems un-American. If the local channels are concerned about market share, they should improve their product.